Inga Ratepayers Meet.

Another of those very interesting meetings held by farmers in the Inga section to air their grievances, was held on Friday last, in the schoolhouse.

When the meeting was called to order, W M Washburne was called to the chair, and performed the duties of presiding officer in a very satisfactory manner. Mr Collins of Holborn acted as secretary.

The big grievance at the present time is the alleged inequalities perpetrated at the so called "equalisation of taxation" carried out in Inga Municipal District last summer, under the workings of the new Act.

Every one present at the meeting seemed to be packing a good-sized grievance, and appeared to be filled with a determination to have this particular grievance remedied.

Most of the protestants were given a hearing, and each stated his case clearly and showed how he had been dealt with unjustly, so far as the assessment is concerned.

In places where land is adjoining and of equal value, there is a spread of from $15 to $20 an acre per quarter-section. The ratepayers are, naturally, up in arms, as some quarter sections are as high as $52.85 municipal tax, and when the school tax is added to that, the farmer has very little left on which to maintain his family.

Owing to the fact that Mr Pidgeon, Secretary-Treasurer of the Municipality, was not present at the meeting, very little could be accomplished.

Another meeting is called for tomorrow, Friday, January 6th, at 1 p.m., when it is hoped the Secretary-Treasurer and more of the Councilmen will be able to attend, and guarantee a remedy for these unjust assessments.

One Joyful Evening.

"Three Joyous Days" had their culmination in one joyful evening last week, at the Chautauqua Old Boys' Reunion. Mr O'Kell, in an able speech, told of a local guarantor who, last season, sold 100 tickets in 90 minutes—this being the record for the N. Am. Continent and Newfoundland. A number of other orators had something to say, when, in the interests of early closing, it was almost to be suggested that members be limited to 25 questions apiece. A committee was appointed to round up the delinquents, after which the Secretary was instructed to communicate with Dominion Chautauquas at Calgary, as to the advisability of keeping this year's engagement. Another meeting will be called when the reply has been received.

Defying the Frost King.

Credit is given Professor Robb of the University of Alberta for having discovered a preparation the use of which makes it possible to easily start gasoline engines at temperatures as low as 37 degrees below zero. The importance of such a discovery can hardly be overestimated. It will solve one of the aggravating winter problems of the motorist, and will facilitate the use of the airplane in severe weather in the northern regions. Congratulations are due the discoverer, and not less to the University and the Province which share in the distinction he has won and the service he has rendered.

R. R. Man Says It Kept Him On The Job—Was Nearly Down And Out

"It's all due to Tanlac that I am able to be on the job today, for I was just about down and out when I began taking it," said Harold Blanchard, a trainman on the Canadian National Railway, residing at 330 Donald St., Winnipeg, Man.

"On returning from France, after three years service over there, I was so run down and weak I could hardly work. My appetite was gone and my stomach in such a bad condition that what little I did eat seemed to do me harm instead of good. After eating I would bloat terribly and my heart would beat like a hammer against my chest. This palpitation was so bad at times I began to think I had something serious the matter with my heart. My kidneys had also bothered me for several years and there was a severe pain in the small of my back.

"My sleep at night did me little good, for I would wake up at all hours and then get up feeling as tired as if I hadn't gone to bed at all. In fact, I felt miserable all the time. One day I happened to hear a man talking how much Tanlac had helped him, so I began taking it and the results have been nothing less than remarkable. To put it all in a nut-shell, I am now as strong and well as I ever was in my life and I consider Tanlac well worth recommending to everybody."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Canada's Needs

No. 1—Population

In this, the first of a series of articles dealing with some of Canada's outstanding needs as it enters the new year, first attention is given to the subject of population, because, after all, the provision of many other needs and the solution of most national problems hinges upon the question of people.

Some people may challenge the statement that population is Canada's most pressing need. Pointing out that there is much unemployment at the present time, some may argue that we already have more people than we can adequately provide for, and that all efforts at immigration should cease. Others may contend that more important than population is the righting of certain social wrongs and the raising of the moral and religious life of the nation.

There is, of course, room for argument, but the writer would submit that before any country can amount to anything, and before there can be increased employment and a high standard in life, there must be an adequate population to make these things possible. Churches, banks, factories, railways, and so forth, do not make a country. It is people who make a nation. Without population any land will remain a wilderness, but with people, and only with, by and through people can a barren land be made anything else but barren.

Along with the New Year, Canada gets a new national administration. Among the big problems which will confront the new Prime Minster, his cabinet and the new Parliament, not one exceeds in magnitude and importance the question of largely augmenting the population of the Dominion by the introduction of the right class of immigrants.

Fortunately, the whole country is beginning to realize this fact, and east and west a growing public demand is being voiced for the adoption of a wise but vigorous and persistent immigration policy. The immigration portfolio in the new Government calls for the biggest, brainiest, most aggressive man that Mackenzie King can call to his cabinet. The task confronting such a minister is a hard one, but the man who tackles it in earnest and keeps at it will not only make a lasting name for himself, but will confer benefits on Canada which cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents alone.

The new Government is pledged to adopt policies and enact laws designed to bring about a return of prosperity to this Dominion, to keep our factories busy and, generally, to provide ample employment for all citizens. The basic stone in the construction of the national edifice of prosperity is population—people settled on the vacant lands of Canada, people to work in the development of our vast wealth of raw natural resources, people who will create traffic for our national railways, people who will help to divide the load of taxation and thus make it easier for all.

There are hundreds of thousands of prospective emigrants in the countries of Europe. If number alone was all that counted the task of the new Minister of Immigration would be easy. But while Canada wants quantity, and can absorb tens of thousands of new settlers, they must be of the right type, men and women and children who will prove an asset and not a liability to Canada. Unfits, whether physically, mentally or morally, are not wanted and must be debarred, but the clean, sound, able-bodied should be picked out and encouraged to come, and mere lack of money should not be imposed as a bar to their admittance.

Canada is a land of opportunity. While the days of free homestead lands, which attracted a great influx of settlers in the first decade of the century, are no longer available, there are tens of millions of vacant acres of good agricultural land awaiting settlement. It will be the task of statesmanship and true nation-building to work out a sound policy whereby these lands are made available to settlers on reasonable terms and some assistance given to such settlers to enable them to establish homes with an assurance of success.

The first step towards evolving a practical and successful settlement policy is to discover why it is that so many thousands of people who have come to Canada in the past with the full determination to remain here and make permanent homes for themselves and their children, have, after the lapse of a few years, left the country. There is a weakness, a fault, somewhere. It should be clearly located and steps taken without loss of time to remedy the defect, whatever it may be. That done, then vigorous action should follow to encourage the hardworking, fit people of Europe to come to Canada, establish homes here, assist in the development of our stores of natural wealth, and become good citizens and active participators in the building up of this Dominion.

Minard's Liniment For Distemper

General Smuts' Advice

Nations Will Prosper If People "Keep Their Heads"

As General Smuts said, our present troubles will leave us stronger later on. It is better to fight through them now, even at some sacrifice, than to put them off and have to deal with bigger ones in the future. Germany is adopting a seemingly easier course. She is producing a temporary and illusory activity by depreciating her currency and trying to live upon paper money. Every imperial expert is convinced that she is merely postponing the evil day, and that a gigantic crash is inevitable. The mirage of inflation never lasts long. Suddenly it vanishes and reveals the desert. "Keep your heads," says General Smuts to bankers and traders and the people generally. It is the only sound and sane thing to do. We cannot change world conditions and make all the nations prosperous in a moment. But we can at least refrain from making our own position worse by needless interruptions of activity and panicky measures.—The Johannesburg Times.

WHY BEAUTY FADES

A Condition Due Entirely to Poor, Watery Blood

The girl who returns home from school or from work thoroughly tired out will be fortunate if she escapes a physical breakdown, because this getting tired so easily is probably the first warning symptom of a thinning blood that must not be disregarded if her health is to be preserved.

When the blood becomes thin and impure the patient becomes pale, haggard and angular. She not only tires out easily but suffers from headaches, palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells and a loss of appetite. This condition will go from bad to worse, if prompt steps are not taken to increase and enrich the blood supply. To make the rich, red blood that brings the glow of health, no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If given a fair trial their use brings rosy cheeks, bright eyes, a good appetite and good spirits. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made thousands of pale, languid girls active and strong. On the first sign of poor, thin blood mothers should insist upon their daughters taking a fair course of these pills. They will not only restore health, but will save further doctor bills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Approximately 500,000 pies are eaten daily in ten of the largest cities in the United States.

Simple and Sure.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is so simple in application that a child can understand the instructions. Used as a liniment the only direction is to rub and when used as a dressing to apply. The directions are so plain and unmistakable that they are readily understood by young or old.

"What are you doin' of, James?"

"Sharpenin' a bit of pencil."

"You'll 'ave the union after you me lad. That's a carpenter's job."

Mother! Clean Child's Bowels With California Fig Syrup

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Concrete Tonight For Liver, Bowels, If Bilious, Headachy

Get a 10-cent box now.

You're headachy! You have a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, your lips parched. No wonder you feel mean. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are gone by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets too because they never gripe or sicken.

British Columbia Developments

Canadian National Railway Official Speaks Optimistically of Outlook

Osborne Scott, general passenger agent, Canadian National Railways, Vancouver, who was in Winnipeg recently attending a conference of officials of western lines with C. A. Hayes, vice-president in charge of traffic, and H. H. Melanson, passenger traffic manager, Toronto, writes with respect to future business activities.

Speaking of progressive developments in his territory, Mr. Scott was in an entirely optimistic mood. He spoke of steadily increasing land settlement in the valleys and on the plateaux of Central British Columbia traversed by the Grand Trunk Pacific and also in the valleys of the Thompson and lower Fraser Rivers. Considerable land is already under cultivation in the more recently settled sections and production has reached a shipping stage. The fruit output in the southern part of the province is, of course, the outstanding feature of land production. By the introduction of improved varieties and exercising constant vigilance in combating pests, the old prejudices harbored against British Columbia apples have been dissipated and now our apples are being marketed successfully in Great Britain, United States, Japan, New Zealand and Australia, and also in Eastern Canada, which is world famous for the quality of the staple fruit.

The export of pure bred dairy cattle from British Columbia to Antipodean countries and to Japan is an other interesting feature of our agricultural progress during the past two years. Fruit shipments were found so satisfactory that large repeat orders are now coming. The dairying industry is also expanding fast, the long season of outdoor grazing being a big advantage.

Lumber is the chief export of the province today, our splendid timber products finding ready markets in all quarters of the globe, but other products, both raw and manufactured, are claiming attention of overseas consumers to such an extent that a company, known as the Canadian Producers Corporation Limited, has been organized with an authorized capital of $1,000,000 for the purpose of purchasing and exporting the output of British Columbia forests fields, fisheries, factories and mines to all parts of the world. This company has trade connections in both the Orient and Occident. In connection with growing export business, Canadians should feel special pride in knowing that the ships of their Merchant Marine are playing a very important part in carrying out goods to the world's markets. The flag of our merchant fleet is now found on the seven seas of the globe, and wherever it goes Canadian trade goes too. With respect to the lumber business, Mr. Scott states that exports this year to August 31st, amounted to 181,804,354 feet.

As all year round resort of tourists, holiday makers and seekers after health, British Columbia is growing in favor, Mr. Scott declares, and community and other organizations are providing facilities for the accommodation and entertainment of the many visitors. Vancouver is providing a new attraction for that city in the way of an immense pavilion for winter salt water bathing and water sports. It will be located on English Bay and the water will be heated to the proper temperature. Visitors from the prairie provinces, whose numbers increase each succeeding season, have their own social organizations and have enjoyable gatherings and recreative amusements.

The minister who made the following announcement seems to have been prepared for untoward results from his preaching.

"There are some flowers here," he said, "for those who are sick at the close of this service."

Cheapest of all Oils.—Considering the qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil it is the cheapest of all preparations offered to the public. It is to be found in every drug store in Canada from coast to coast and all country merchants keep it for sale. So, being easily procurable and extremely economic in price, no one should be without a bottle of it.

Wheat Raisers Infor a Surprise

Though the prices in the wheat market appear to be low enough at the present time, Mr Weir of the Anglo-Canadian Grain Co., Edmonton, looks for another break before long, says the Edmonton Journal of Dec. 28.

Despite a slightly upward trend, wheat has been so low for the past three months that it appears the pendulum must swing; for as the market has been for some time, the price received by the farmers does not cover the cost of freight and threshing when the grain is shipped to distant points.

The wheat situation before May may become alarming, as statistics indicate a stronger position of the wheat market than even during the war, and a very close adjustment of supplies to demand the world over ny for her export business must be consummated at the expense of the domestic needs of the country, says the grain men. Australia and the Argentine are about to press surplus grain on the world's market, hence a downward trend in prices might be looked for.

On the other hand, Canada produces practically the only hard wheat grown, and the demand for our wheat might even surprise producers before another crop is harvested.

Facing the Future.

In facing the New Year now upon us, let us be filled with high hope and true courage — hope born of a real faith in the future, and a courage founded upon a vision of the possibilities before us, and our strong purpose to accomplish them. These will carry us thru and beyond the cloudy problems of these days and bring us into the sunshine of the clear plains beyond.

—Martinus Papyrus.

One on the Premier.

They are telling a good one in Edmonton these days, says the Fort Saskatchewan Correspondent.

Late last week a bronzed stranger, with a very prominent jaw, walked into one of the leading shoe stores on Jasper avenue, and said he wanted a pair of winter shoes. Plenty of shoes were forthcoming, and it happened that the proprietor of the store himself was waiting on the customer. At last one pair seemed to fill the bill.

"How much are those shoes?" asked the prospective buyer.

"They're $8, and cheap at the price," said the shoeman.

"Nine dollars?" said the customer. "Why, let me tell you I sent three hides in to the hide buyers here the other day, and after paying express and commissions I got about 80 cents as my end of it."

"Well," said the shoeman, "we have a Farmers' Government now. During the elections they said they would change all that. They have been in power now for some months, and if they haven't changed it, you'd better see them. I know I can't afford to sell shoes at a lower price than that, anyway."

The customer accepted the answer without a smile, and after saying he would take the shoes, and paying for them, went to leave the store.

"Can you send them?" he asked.

"Certainly," said the shoeman; "name and address, please?"

"Premier Greenfield, at the Macdonald Hotel," said the customer, and walked out.

A New Office.

Notice of a "breath" inspector to be appointed for the Youngstown, Ohio police force, inserted in the police roll call as a joke, was hailed as a good idea by Mayor Elect George Daval Olds, who said that he certainly would put it into force when he assumes office. The notice stated that the "breath inspector" would sniff at all police men every four hours and that scent of cloves, wintergreen or peppermint would put a black mark on the record of the offending officer.

Heatherdown News.

The Social Club at Heatherdown held its annual meeting last week, with about 40 of the members present. Mr Wilby was elected President, Otis Waddel first Vice-Pres., and Mrs Livingstone Secretary. After the election, plans were discussed and completed for the erection of a public hall by the Club and the Community for 1922. It was also arranged that a play would be given during the winter. Supper was served by the ladies about midnight, and this was followed by a dance which continued until about 2 a.m., after which all left for their homes, after having passed a very pleasant evening.

"Oh, yes, I'll be chippin' in. Of course. But I didn't just say to sell the farm yet. I'll have t' get back an' straighten things up some first. You see, I thought you'd get my letter before you left, an' you could kind o' make your deal then, an' your payment would hold the bargain bound until I could sell mine, y' see, Harris?" Riles was beginning to address himself mainly to the older man.

"Don't take me up wrong," said Allan. "I'm in on this along with Dad, if he's in; an' if he's out, I'm out. But I was just kind o' curious about it."

"It's all right, it's all right," assured Riles, with great magnanimity. Inwardly he was cursing Gardner for having left this task to him. He was suspicious of a trap in the simplest question, and feared that any minute he might find himself floundering in a mesh of contradictions.

"Where is this coal mine, and who's got it?" said Harris.

"I ain't saw it myself," admitted Riles. "They're awful p'tic'lar about lettin' people see it," he continued, with a sudden flash of inspiration. "It's so valu'ble, y' know."

"Fraid somebody'll bring it home in their pocket, I suppose," said Allan.

Riles pretended to laugh heartily.

"But where is it?" insisted Harris. "Is there a railroad near, or how do you get at it?"

"It's up in the mountains, an' that's all I can tell you but it's all right, an' there's a pile o' money in it. I guess I better bring Gard'ner down in the morning, an' he'll explain all about it. Y' see, he knows the fellow 'at owns it an I don't, an' he'll be able to tell you. That is, if you're goin' in on it. Gard'ner won't say much unless he knows you're goin' in on it."

"Well he'll have to say a good deal before he knows," said Harris. "I ain't buyin' a pig in a poke. He's got t' show me, and then if it's all right, why, it's all right."

"Oh, it's all right," said Riles, although inwardly he felt little enthusiasm over the attitude of either father or son. He was annoyed that Allan should be present. On the whole, it would be better to leave the rest of the explaining to Gardiner.

"What d'ye think of it, Dad?" said Allan, when Riles was gone.

"Maybe all right," said Harris. "Wouldn't be surprised but it is. At the same time, I ain't goin' to put a cent in it till I'm dead sure. And anyway, there's no use lettin' Riles think we're keen on it."

"That's what I think. You think Gardiner's all square in it?"

"I don't know. Likely he's getting a fat commission from somewhere, but that's fair enough, if he makes the deal. But he won't see any o' our money till I have the opinion of the best lawyer in town. That's all we can say till we see it."

"That seems safe," Allan agreed. "Just the same, I think there's lots of chances to use our money to advantage here than down in Manitoba, don't you?"

"Yes, I think there is. You see, this is a new country, and everythin's on the jump. Think how much we could 'a' made in Manitoba in the early days if we had the money and knew where t' put it. Well, out here they've got the benefit of our experience, an' they'll do as much here in five years as we did in twenty-five. We had t' make the money t' develop our country—had t' make it right at home on our farms, an' that's slow. But here the money's rollin' in from outside."

"What d'ye say if we sell the old farm anyway, an' then if this mine business don't look good, we'll plunk it into farm land?"

"Might do worse," his father agreed. "We'll have a look round for a day or two, anyway."

The next morning they began a round of the real estate offices. Great activity prevailed everywhere, and dealers seemed to have hardly time to give them attention. In one little box of a place they mentioned that they might be on the market for say a couple of thousand acres.

"Think I can fix you up all right," said the proprietor; "and there's one sure thing, you can't put your money anywhere where it's safer or 'll grow faster. Why——"

At that moment a man in a pepper-and-salt suit went by the door.

"'Scuse me a minute," said the dealer, rushing to the door and sending a shrill whistle down the street. The man in the pepper-and-salt turned, and the dealer beckoned him into the little office.

"You know that five-thousand-acre block you bought last week," he said in a low voice, but loud enough to be heard by the Harrises. "Bought it at six dollars, didn't you? Well, I can give you seven to-day, for a quick sale."

"Couldn't think of it, my dear fellow," protested the lucky buyer. "I simply couldn't think of it."

"Couldn't think of making five thousand dollars in a week? It don't look too bad to a working man like me."

"But it's nowhere near the value of the land. Why, they're selling stuff in Illinois to-day that ain't to be compared with it at a hundred and fifty dollars an acre. It's only a question of time until this is as much. You've got better land here, and better climate, and you're a thousand miles nearer the Pacific Ocean, that's going to carry the commerce of the future. Seven dollars? It's an insult to Canada to mention such a price?"

"Well, say," continued the real estate man, in a still more confidential tone, "I was allowing myself a little margin on the deal, even at seven dollars. But I had a man in here a few minutes ago that'll buy that block at eight-fifty. I'll pay you eight dollars net to put it through."

"Sorry, but he'll have to get down deeper than that if he wants it. Tell him I might consider ten dollars, but mind, I ain't making any promise." And the man in the pepper-and-salt suit continued his course down the street, just the same as if he were not making five thousand dollars a week.

"Big capitalist from New York, that fellow," explained the dealer. "Simply coining money up here, and always salting it into more land."

The incident left a deep impression on the Harrises. They did not know, of course, that the man in the pepper-and-salt suit always went by the door when likely-looking strangers were in, and that he always refused a profit of ten thousand dollars as a matter of little consequence—except for its influence on the unsuspecting party of the third part.

CHAPTER XV.

The Lure of Easy Money

In the afternoon Gardiner and Riles drove into town and met the Harrises in the waiting-room of the hotel. Gardiner's greeting was friendly, but not over-familiar, as became a man who had recently suffered some reflection on his character. He shook Harris and Allan by the hand, inquired after the cattle and the crops, but discreetly avoided family matters, having learned from Riles that all had not been going smoothly in their domestic affairs. Gardiner knew a little room at the back of the bar, to which he escorted his guests. Having ordered a bottle and glasses on the table, he turned the key in the door.

"You can't be too careful," he explained. "You know, the walls have ears, and if it gets out that this coal mine can be picked up at the price we have on it, it will be taken before night. I understand your money is not here yet, Mr. Harris?"

"No. Not started, I guess. The fact is, I haven't sold the farm."

"Well, I don't want to hurry you, but we've got to act quickly, or not at all. Of course, we don't figure on taking any chances. Our idea is to turn the property over at once, at a good profit. That's the way you feel about it too, isn't it?"

"I'm not a coal miner."

"Exactly. Neither are the men who own most of the mines of this country. There comes a time, Mr. Harris, when we realize that we don't have to get down with pick and shovel to make ourselves some money—in fact, the man with pick and shovel hasn't time to make any real money. I am glad you feel like I do about it, for I have already taken the liberty of putting the proposition up to a New York syndicate."

"You mean if we don't come through they will?"

"No, I mean that we'll come through—and they'll come after us. My idea is not to take any chances, but to sell the property, or as good as sell it, before we buy it. So I sent a Government report on it to this syndicate, as I heard they were looking out for coal lands in the West, and I just took the liberty of offering it to them for a cool quarter of a million, and gave them until to-night to accept or refuse, by wire. I'm a little anxious for an answer, although if they don't take it others will. You see, the old fellow that owns it simply hasn't any idea what it's worth. He has lived in the hills until he looks like one of 'em, and a satchelful of money in real bills will simply dazzle him. A cheque wouldn't serve the purpose; he'd be suspicious of it, and he's come down to investigate, and someone would be sure to crimp our deal."

"But what is your plan for the deal, Mr. Gardiner?" asked Harris. "We can't go into the mountains with a load of bills and buy a mine like a man might buy a steer. There'll have to be papers, titles and such things, I suppose, to make it right with us and with the Government."

"Of course," Gardiner agreed. "We will take the money with us, but we won't give it to him until we get the papers. We'll just let him see it—nibble it a little, if you like—and then we'll lead him into town with it, like you lead a horse with oats. The sight of so much money will keep him coming our way when nothing else would. And we'll slip him a hundred or two, and get a little receipt for it, just to prevent him changing his mind if he should be so disposed."

"And suppose I don't like the look of the mine when I see it?"

"Then you bring your money back down with you and put it into farm lands, or anything else that takes your fancy. After you look it over, if you don't want to go in on it, Mr. Harris, perhaps Riles and I can raise enough ourselves to swing the deal, but you see we thought of you from the first, and we will stay with our original plan until you have a chance to decide one way or another."

"Well, that sounds fair," said Allan, and his father nodded. "But we haven't sold the farm, and until we do I guess there isn't much money in sight."

"Bradshaw'll sell the farm quick enough if I send him word," his father assured him. "He may not get it all in money, but he'll get a good part of it, and he has ways o' raisin' the balance so long's the security is good. I've half a mind t' wire him t' close 'er out."

At this moment there came a knock on the door, and a boy presented a telegram for Gardiner. He opened it, read it, and emitted a whoop like a wild Indian. "They're coming through," he shouted, "coming through! How does half of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars look to you, Mr. Harris?"

Harris reached out eagerly for the telegram, while Allan, his arm thrown over his father's shoulder, read it in boyish excitement:

"If investigation confirms Government reports we will pay two hundred and fifty thousand. Our representative leaves at once for personal interview."

Could Not Eat

Constipation is caused by a torpid condition of the liver. Dosing with salts, castor oil, etc., to move the bowels, cannot afford more than temporary relief.

If you are to rid yourself of this ailment and the scores of annoying symptoms and distress which come in its wake, it is necessary to get the liver right by such treatment as is suggested in this letter:

Mrs. Alvin Richards, R. R. No. 1, Smiley's Bay, Ont., writes: "For two years I was afflicted with indigestion, and in the morning when I got up my breath was bad. I had a poor appetite, and just felt like eating certain foods. I used many different medicines as a laxative without benefit, and the doctor's medicine did me help me at all. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and found them better than anything I had ever tried. I am highly recommend them to anyone troubled with constipation or kidney trouble."

France Remains Firm On Broad Plans For Submarine Building

Washington.—Efforts to limit the naval strength of the powers in submarines and auxiliary warships came to an abrupt end after they had drawn the French and British arms conference delegates into a plain spoken exchange over the possibilities of a future war between France and the British empire.

The French, acting under renewed instructions from their Government, told the conference naval committee, with an air of finality, that France must remain free to build a submarine fleet nearly three times as great as that she now possesses and to construct, in addition, cruisers, destroyers and other auxiliary craft up to a tonnage of 339,000 tons.

To the proposal the Japanese, Italian and United States delegates replied with expressions of surprise and regret, while the British charged openly that such a building programme must be regarded as a menace to British shores. Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour added that he had no doubt, if occasion arose, Great Britain would be equal to it, but only if she reserved complete freedom of action as to the construction of all types of auxiliaries which might be useful against underwater warfare.

Agreeing that further argument would be useless, the committee turned its attention to collateral subjects, including regulations for future use of submarines, proposals for limitation of the size and armament of individual auxiliary vessels and details of the agreement already sealed in principle regarding capital ships.

Improve Conditions On the Farm

Nothing More Worthy of Men of Science and Education, Clifford Sifton Says

Toronto.—Addressing a session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Sir Clifford Sifton emphasized particularly the necessity for improving conditions of life on the farm. So important did the former minister of the interior consider this that he declared:

"Nothing is more worthy of the attention of the men of science and education than the amelioration of the conditions of the average farmer and his family by inventions and appliances which will facilitate as far as possible the performance of the ordinary work of the farm, and which will improve the productivity of the soil.

"Without going into further details I would put as the very first requirement in the development of natural resources, recognition of the fact that the most important resource is agriculture and the improvement of conditions upon the farm to the end that the exodus from the farm may be stopped and farming operations rendered more easy and comfortable," continued Sir Clifford Sifton, amid applause.

"I am quite certain that the movement from the farm to the city is largely due to the revolt of the farmer's wife and family against the slavish labor which they have to do and this revolt in my judgment is amply justified by the conditions. When it is said that the interests of the country require the promotion of a movement to get people to go back to the farm the answer is that what is wanted is not propaganda but something that will render life upon the farm more tolerable.

"It is not for nothing that the farmer has gone into politics. The basic industry of this country is crying out for help and the help that is required is not subsidies and not spoon-feeding, but action which will place the work of the farm upon a better and more comfortable, and more remunerative basis. The successful carrying on of the farms of Canada depends on the domestic work in the farmer's kitchen and barnyard."

A Scene of Splendor

Calcutta. — Amid scenes of splendor and the presence of enthusiastic crowds the Prince of Wales opened the Victorian Memorial, dedicated to the Queen-Empress Victoria, whose memory is held in the highest esteem throughout India. The building is in the form of a vast marble palace and is of rare architectural beauty. It required 15 years to erect it. The building comprises a museum, commemorative to India's glory. It contains portraits of the old emperors of Dehli and of famous men who labored for India during the Victorian era. The ceremony was carried out in full state.

Friendship Increasing Powers On Increase

Crown Prince of Japan is Pleased With Results of Conference

Tokio.—Crown Prince Hirohito, the regent, personally reading the speech from the throne at the opening of the Diet, expressed gratification in noting the increasing friendship of the Japanese Government with the different treaty powers, and that the Washington conference was approaching a successful conclusion.

The regent exhorted the co-operation of the Japanese people in the promotion of national prosperity and of lasting peace in view of the added responsibility of the nation with respect to other nations. The session of the Diet was brief and formal.

May Oppose Harding's Shipping Plan

Washington.—President Harding's shipbuilding plan, though not fully worked out, will be ready to offer to Congress soon after the holidays. It will provide for a heavy expenditure in direct subsidies. Intense opposition to it is already developing in Congress and it is generally regarded as doubtful whether it can be forced through even under administration pressure. Agricultural interests are lining up against it.

Situation in Egypt Improving

London.—Official reports received from Cairo stated that the situation in Lower Egypt was approaching normal, that all officials had returned to their offices and that only the schools remained closed.

There were small disturbances in Alexandria, but Cairo, the canal zone and the hinterland were quiet, indicating, according to official circles here, that the worst of the disturbances have ended.

Use Unemployed As Night Guards

Plan Suggested for Philadelphia May Check Thefts

Philadelphia.—A plan to use 4,000 unemployed in the city as night watchmen, their wages to be paid by the contribution of 15 cents weekly by each family in the territory they are to guard, has been suggested to the Unemployment Committee by Major J. Hampton Moore. The plan, it was said, has the endorsement of police department officials.

The watchmen would not be in uniform and this fact, the Major said, would have the effect of decreasing automobile thefts, burglaries and banditry of all sorts.

British Golfers to Tour Canada

Chicago.—James H. Taylor, five times open golf champion of Great Britain, and Alex. Herd, who held the British title in 1907, will make a tour of Canada and the United States next summer, it was announced here. The veterans will compete in the United States open golf championship at the Skokie Club, Chicago.

The Reparation Question

Hamburg.—"The efforts of Germany during 1921 to fulfil her peace obligations have failed, and it is idle to think that any political or economic efforts will now succeed unless these conditions are modified, declared the annual report of the Hamburg chamber of commerce. "Those who still believe the London ultimatum can be carried out," says the report, "either are without judgment or do not desire fulfillment but the destruction of Germany, which in time would ruin as France, England and America."

HIS FIRST JOY RIDE

British Government Has Gone The Limit On Irish Question

London.—A statement from Prime Minister Lloyd George was issued here to the effect that the Government has gone the utmost limit in the Irish agreement and that it was impossible to re-open the discussions.

The delay in ratification in Ireland, the statement said, was holding up the working of the cabinet committee appointed to arrange the evacuation of the British forces in Ireland, settle the terms of the amnesty and transfer executive responsibility to the Irish provisional government.

Following is the text of Lloyd George's statement:

"No British statesmen could go further than we have gone; no British statesmen could consider any proposal involving Ireland being out of the empire.

"The treaty places Ireland on an equality with the other states of the empire and gives Ireland the same claim to membership in the League of Nations and every right that Canada has in law, fact and constitutional practise; and not merely rejection, but alteration even of the treaty would render it null and void. This would indeed be deplorable in the interests of both countries.

"The British Government has gone their utmost limit in the treaty and to re-open the discussion which was closed only after the most exhaustive consideration of every point, would be a fruitless proceeding and is impossible.

Discuss Farm Problems

Prof. Bracken Also Pays Tribute to Early Investigators of the Country

Winnipeg. — Agricultural experts from many parts of the Dominion and the United States gathered here for the second annual convention of the Western Canadian Society of Agronomy.

Addressing the delegates, Prof. John Bracken, president of the Manitoba Agricultural College, paid a tribute to the men who had led the way in the matter of research and experiment. When the history of agriculture in Western Canada was written, he said, the early investigators in agronomy would be complimented on the standpoint of soil management and crop production. On the other hand, they might be criticised for not having conserved the soil in the way that might be expected, and it was the fact that they had not done so that constituted the problem before agronomists today. Methods had to be devised for solving that problem before it was too late.

Prof. Manley Champlin, of the University of Saskatchewan, read a lengthy paper on "Field Tests with Fallow Substitutes," in which he said the University of Saskatchewan in 1922 would undertake a project to determine the effect of various fallow substitutes in the production of wheat outlined about as follows:

Oats, barley and wheat in double rows, 24 inches apart, and in triple rows, 20 inches apart; corn, potatoes and sunflowers in single rows, 42 inches apart, and sudan grass in double rows, 42 inches apart.

M. J. Tinline, Scott, Sask., gave a paper on "Practical Crop Rotations for the Prairie Farmer." Because of the one-crop system farmers were, as a class, financially embarrassed. Adoption of rotations on the farms would distribute labor more evenly throughout the summer and provide winter employment, he said.

Rush For Gold Claims

Activity Greatest Since the Opening Up of Northern Manitoba as a Mineral Belt

The Pas, Man.—Snow staking of mining claims in the new Wekusko Lake gold camp, north of here, is the most active since the opening up of Northern Manitoba as a mineral belt. The action of the Hollinger Mine of Porcupine in taking an option on the Murray Brothers' claims has caused every prospector in the district to head for the new camps.

Sales of claims are numerous, and the price has advanced from $500 to $1,000. One small group of claims, seven miles from the Hollinger properties has been sold by a local man for $5,000 cash, and a banker here was handed $2,700 for one claim and the sale of another for $2,000 quite a distance from the Murray claims. Most of this money comes from Montreal and Toronto interests.

Weary of Winter, Suspect Surrenders

Winnipeg.—Weary of the rigorous northern climate and expressing a deep longing to be back under southern skies, William R. Shelley, wanted for theft at Oakland, Cal., walked into the police station here and gave himself up. He was remanded for one week in order that the Oakland police may be communicated with.

Campaign to Check Reckless Driving

Hamilton, Ont.—That next spring the department of public works would start a campaign to check reckless driving and prevent irresponsible drivers from operating cars throughout the province, was the announcement of Hon. F. C. Biggs, who addressed the Kiwanis Club here.

Plan Help For Russia

Rome.—The Italian Red Cross is to establish eighteen food and medical depots in the famine area of Southern Russia, under an agreement signed here by the president of the organization, and M. Vorovsky, Soviet representative. The government has contributed 4,000,000 lire for the work.

France Wants Strong Fleet

Submarine is Defended As Essential Weapon of Defense and for Military Purposes Only

Paris.—France's determination to ington conference, were vigorously to the limitation efforts of the Washing ton conference, were vigorously voiced in the Senate during a discussion of the marine section of the government's budget.

Senator de Kerguezec defended the submarine as an essential weapon of defense, but wished it to be confined to military uses instead of being applied to torpedoing commerce. "At the Washington conference," he said, "we were surprised to see the French delegation demand 330,000 tons of capital ships when France does not intend to carry war into foreign waters. France desires no imperialism, but if we found Admiral de Bon's proposal strange, there are, nevertheless, limitations which we cannot accept."

Cannibalism in Russia

Russians Eat Dead Bodies to Famine Stricken Areas

Riga.—The first official report of cannibalism in the famine districts of Russia has been made to the all-Russian Soviet congress by Delegate Ovsienko, of Samara, according to a dispatch to the official Rosta News Agency, dated Moscow.

"At Ramlievskoy the parish people are eating the bodies of their dead," Ovsienko told the congress.

"It is dangerous to bury the famine victims in the presence of the people and guards must be kept over them until they are in a state that makes eating impossible."

The speaker said that children are being taken to the Steppes and left there to die; that mothers, maddened by their experiences, eat the throats of their babies.

At the beginning of January, continued Ovsienko, the Soviets, with all their outside aid, will be able to feed only half the starving children and only one-twentieth of the adults. The rest of the people would have to die while waiting help.

Veteran Arrested in Ottawa

Ottawa.—Wm. H. Coulter, the veteran who walked all the way from Vancouver to Ottawa to lay some grievances at to his treatment while overseas before the Government, appeared in police court charged with disorderly conduct on the public streets. Magistrate Ash with permitted him to depart on suspended sentence.

Montana Yarns.

The upper Missouri steamboats, it used to be said, would run on a light dew, and certainly they used to get by where there was mighty little water. X. Dellter and his friend Major Reid were traveling by boat to Fort Benton. One night they drank more than they should have. X. was awakened in the morning by the cries of Reed. On entering his stateroom X. found Reed begging for water, as he was dying of thirst.

X. stepped to the bedside, and taking his friend's hand, said:

"I'm sorry, Major, I can't do anything for you. That darned pilot got full too last night, and now we are eight miles up a dry coulee!"

—Saved the Wagon.—

"Some say rattlers ain't pizen," said Buckskin Williams, an old freighter, "but I know different. I'm pullin' out of Milk River one day with 14, when I notice my line hoss swing out, an' every hoss on the near side crowds the chain. My near wheel hoss that I'm ridin', rares up and straddles the tongue. It's then I see what the trouble is—a big rattler has struck, misses my hoss and hits the tongue. The tongue starts to swell up. I have to chop it off to save the wagon, and I'm darned quick doing it, too!"

Cap. Neke, a well known old-timer around Fenton in the early days, tells of coming south from Edmonton with a string of half-breed carts. They were traveling through big herds of buffalo. It was spring, and there were many calves. They had no trouble with the full grown bufla'o, Cap say', but were forced to stop often to take the calves from between the spokes of the cart wheels!

A Special Offer.

In view of the fact that your Rural Municipality has not provided pounds for your estrays, nor does it contemplate doing so, it is up to the farmer to get rid of those undesirables. The Sun will advertise these as a 25-word ad, 3 times for 75c.

Advertise the strays on your place, so the owner will know where they are. Under the new Act, there is no provision for feed allowance on estrays.

Civilization Bad For Eskimo

Traveller Predicts that Eskimo Tribes Will Soon Be Extinct

Members of the Eskimo tribes, who total upwards of 5,000 persons, will be extinct during the lifetime of people now living, according to a prophecy made in Toronto by S. Salmsbury, who spent ten years in the Arctic regions of Baffin's Land and Hudson's Bay. He declared the effect of civilization on the Eskimo was appalling, their health and stamina breaking down completely. The chief cause of their physical deterioration is the introduction of civilized foods, white flour being particularly disastrous in its effects.

Valuable Clay in Alberta

Suitable for Manufacturing Brick and Tile Drain

The story of a pronounced disability disclosing itself as a valuable asset comes from the Smoky River country along the line of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia railway. Engineers of the road had ceaseless trouble in maintaining the approach to the crossing of the river owing to the continual sliding of the clays of which the banks are composed. Now it appears after examination that these clays, of which there is an enormous quantity, are valuable for the manufacture of brick and tile drain, and may in time give birth to an industry, the traffic of which should compensate the railroad for some of the trouble it has experienced.

MANY CHILDREN SICK HOW TO TREAT THEM

The kiddies will get their feet wet, catch cold, get croup and give their mothers lots of trouble. The result is fine, and next morning child is better. Nerviline is a great protection in the home. Large 25c bottles at all dealers.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are so changeable—one bright, the next cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Aeroplane Stunts Are Barred

A New Clause is Added to the Air Regulations

Acrobatic tricks, involving entering or leaving an aeroplane while in flight, are barred out under a new clause which has been added to the air regulations. The clause reads as follows:

"No person shall enter or attempt to enter any aircraft in flight; or leave or attempt to leave any aircraft in flight, except for the purpose of making a parachute descent; or give upon any aircraft in flight any gymnastic or other like exhibition."

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

is greatly relieved by constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

Solid Achievement

The Washington conference for the limitation of armaments has arranged a Pacific league of nations to prevent and settle disputes, has arranged the trouble over the island of Yap between Japan and the United States, has freed China from foreign control of postal services and has started other means of possible dispute towards adjustment. The members of the gathering appear to have had their hearts in the job their countries gave them to do.—The Montreal Gazette.

Like a Grip at the Throat. For a disease that is not classed as fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and family though the attack passes, is left in unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a reliable remedial agent. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as many can testify. It is sold by dealers everywhere.

Minard's Liniment For Diphtheria.

Wrap of Black Duvetyn And Hudson Seal

By Marie Belmont

A coat which can adapt itself to varied occasions is a very desirable one to possess. This versatility of use finds expression here in black duvetyn trimmed in Hudson seal.

The wrap is built on loose lines, this effect being carried out in the single button fastening and the dropped shoulder seams. The chin collar is becoming and gives additional warmth. The finishing band of fur at the hemline is attractive for a person of sufficient height, but should be avoided by one of very short stature.

This coat is attractive over afternoon frocks of black or color, and can also be used for evening wear.

Worms in children work havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon the interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

Your attention is drawn to the advertisement of the Metal Shingle & Siding Co., Ltd., appearing in another column of this issue. Farmers and others will do well to take advantage of their exceptional offer.

Worms cause fretfulness and rob the infant of sleep, the great nourisher. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will clear the stomach and intestines and restore healthfulness.

There are 5,000 living animals of 1,000 species located in the New York Zoological Garden and more are added yearly.

Nick's Sad Loss.

Friends of Nick Cathis will extend their sincere sympathy with him in the sad bereavement he suffered Saturday night, when a friends who was accompanying him fell on the pavement and suffered most severe injuries. Nick had not been acquainted with him for any length of time, but he was a member of the well-known Scottish family of Dewar and their acquaintance promised to become very intimate. In fact, Nick says he was much dearer to him than other members of the family whom he met in the old days. And, besides, when he went back for another, the drug store was closed. In his next suit, Nick is going to have all the pockets lined with leather.—Calgary Market Examiner.

A Holy Show

Commissioner W. Eadie, of the Salvation Army, at Winnipeg, in an adress deplored the prevailing fashion of short skirts and made a ruling that the skirts of women officers must be worn not more than six inches from the ground.

He said he had noticed a tendency among women officers to conform to the prevailing fashion and that on one occasion several of them had presented "quite a show," because of the curtailment of their garments.

Overalls the Guide.

"A lady advertised for a man to work in her garden, and two men applied for the job. While she was interviewing them on the lawn she noticed that her mother on the porch was making signs for her to choose the shorter of the two men, which she finally did.

When the ladies were alone, the daughter said; "Why did you signal me to choose the shorter man, Mother? The other one had a much better face." "Fool!" returned the old lady. "When you are picking out a man to work in your garden you want to go by his overalls. If they're patched on the knees, you want him; but if they're patched on the seat, you don't."
